Verse One:

Sometimes my life, gets stuck out in the rain
I have more stress, and even more pain
I get drenched, stuck in the downpour
I need someone, to repair my inner core
I feel renewed, struck by lightning
I do not need, to keep on fighting
I feel the power, in the loud roar
Electrified, by my inner core

Chorus:

Thunder, the new sound of life
Thunder, deafens all of my strife

Thunder, releases the power within
Thunder, helps a new life begin
Thunder, loud roars take over you
Thunder, your life is renewed

Bridge:

You walk inside, dripping water on the floor
You have avoided, another downpour
No longer struck, your life seems so good
If it does not, well, maybe it should
