When i met her she was waiting on a plane
At the airport restaurant i said "what's your name?" She i said "i grew up in Chicago on the way up to Toronto
maybe you could come and stay a couple days"

Chorus

You can't explain the things she does it's like we're already breaking up then she see everything you done and ya ask yourself where the hell she go and she'll tell you that she's so in love makes you think that she's the one disappears right before your eyes and you realize it's like magic (whoa whoa) just like magic (whoa whoa) she told me she would call me in a week but i'm still waiting on the phone to ring now she's acting like Houdini yeah she had me make believing she gets just want she wants and then she leaves

Chorus

ask yourself where the hell she go and she'll

when when when how she got me feeling as soon as she did it she was done done done, she told me i broke a promise and that's when i be honest tonight, cause i wasn't looking for a lead on i guess she was looking for another heart to feed on she told me she wanted me to cop a feel and then she pull a David Copperfield
When i met her she was waiting on a plane

Chorus
