Start all over again

I had good times there been good times before
You hung me up once baby it can't happen no more I'm gonna start all over, over again, over again

You gave me love once upon a kiss
You gave me wine and things that I miss

You made me lonely before I can't lonely any more Over again, over again

You when love comes over you baby it makes you want to just hide away
She might be foolin on you; you know you just can't stay

I've been through these times before, I'll be through these times some more
If I don't find a way man that the price I'm gonna pay I'm gonna start all over, over again over&#128;.. over again
