"raindrops taste like tears, without the pain"
tell me that your stars have not died tell me that your eyes do not lie join me, in my dance
St. Vitus dance
on this cliff
oh see me, see me dawn
in my excess
yet fearfull, threatened me and if, you wish
under your stars
under your stars I confess someone to raise
to raise my soul
all alone
as I'm sitting in the rain my eyes, full of tears
so is the rain
do drops bring the pain in the black, im so tall shake your balls
do you think the same and I know, that there is something like a heart
that's torn apart
let me see, let me see you
all the pain
when will I be through
