why am i drug along? i see your point, step into my shoes for once. i understand, but i see right and wrong. stubbornness won't solve a thing. i'll take a hit from the crossfire. take a hit from you, from me, from her, from, him. what do you so desire? where will i sleep tonight? i won't burn down with you. it's personal because it catches up with me. i won't burn down with you. bite your tongue, the numbness with make you see. i'm equally empathetic, can you be? you can't expect it. i can't explain it, and there's no way that i single handedly can.
