Looking back on those days
I find it harder to see
Felt like I lost my gaze
Then I ended you and me
Not sure if you ever cared
But I still have gotten through
Mistakenly, I took the dare
I ended me and you

Don't blame the strobe lights
Don't blame the fights
Don't say I took your love
Your freedom, or your rights

Everyone used to talk about you
Everyone used to care
They'd talk about your love life
Your fashion, and your hair
You've fallen so much faster
Nobody could even catch her
You know you had your day
But now you're fading into gray

Rarely in the tabloids
Your fame level has dropped
Used to get all the boys
Now you're no longer hot
Drinking my insanity
Just one sip at a time
Why do you hate me?
Lost your's, now you want mine

Don't blame the strobe lights
Don't blame the fights
Don't say I took your love
Your freedom, or your rights

Everyone used to talk about you
Everyone used to care
They'd talk about your love life
Your fashion, and your hair
You've fallen so much faster

Nobody could even catch her
You know you had your day
But now you're fading into gray

Your blonde hair has faded into gray
Wrapped in hate, you're not okay
You're like a fallen angel now
I can't help but wonder how

Everyone used to talk about you
Everyone used to care
They'd talk about your love life
Your fashion, and your hair
You've fallen so much faster
Nobody could even catch her
You know you had your day
But now you're fading into gray

Everyone used to talk about you
Everyone used to care
They'd talk about your love life
Your fashion, and your hair
You've fallen so much faster
Nobody could even catch her
You know you had your day
But now you're fading into gray

You know you're not okay
