No matter what you think
It just never works
Whatever fight you start
People don't get enough
Shades of gray change into bright
In a world full of darkness
You are not the light

I choose to be secluded
Sometimes while I'm deluded
I think about your perfect life
And wonder why it isn't mine

[Chorus:]

My head can't stop spinning around
It's going to drive itself into the ground
I've searched for years and I finally found
I don't need you deadbeat to hang around
But I still need to be on the run
And I still have got to hide
I wonder when all this pain will be done
And when you'll escape from my mind

I feel a rush of frost in the air
It's just not as cold as your heart was
You've got the perfect body, face, and fair
But I still just don't give a fuck

I choose to be secluded
Sometimes while I'm deluded
I think about your perfect life
And wonder why it isn't mine

[Chorus:]

My head can't stop spinning around
It's going to drive itself into the ground
I've searched for years and I finally found
I don't need you deadbeat to hang around
But I still need to be on the run
And I still have got to hide
I wonder when all this pain will be done
And when you'll escape from my mind

When you look at me don't say you still care
I already see your twisted face everywhere
I'll find peace eventually
When I will is still unknown
But I'll only find it with me

[Chorus:]

My head can't stop spinning around
It's going to drive itself into the ground
I've searched for years and I finally found
I don't need you deadbeat to hang around
But I still need to be on the run
And I still have got to hide
I wonder when all this pain will be done
And when you'll escape from my mind

[Chorus:]

My head can't stop spinning around
It's going to drive itself into the ground
I've searched for years and I finally found
I don't need you deadbeat to hang around
But I still need to be on the run
And I still have got to hide
I wonder when all this pain will be done
And when you'll escape from my mind
