Window, Window, Window, Window Lady
Window, Window, Window, Window Lady
Window Lady
Sitting by your window
Watching every passer by
You must have a story
Tell me, what's your story
Seems as thou' you want to cry.
Window Lady
Sitting by your window
Tell me what can be your name
Pretty as a picture
You're pretty as a picture
Sitting there behind your window frame
Did your man run off and leave you
All alone and now you're apart?
If I were yours I'd never grieve you
Let me come in, let me come in to your heart
Window Lady
Sitting by your window
Won't you take a chance with me
I would take your sadness
Turn it in to gladness
Window Lady let me in, please do
Window Lady, I love you
I love you
