Tell my stories to the ones I love
Hide my fears from those I don't
I've been trying to change my ways for days
You keep saying that I won't

Old songs on a late night
There's just too much on my mind
My love is a true love but my hearts as cold as ice

You like what you see when you're looking at me
'Cause you think that I do what I do for you
Don't you wonder why
Every word that I breathe is a word that I need
And the song that I sing don't mean anything
Don't you wonder why

It's always been this way
All our innocence is gone
If you like I'll take the blame for all the things that you have done

My songs on a cold night
I can't get you out my mind
Your love is a true love but you're never on my side

You like what you see when you're looking at me
'Cause you think that I do what I do for you
Don't you wonder why
Every word that I breathe is a word that I need
And the songs that I sing don't mean anything
Don't you wonder why
Why

Old songs on a late night
There's just too much on my mind
Our love is a young love but I know we'll get this right
