I swim across an ocean
It's my mattress in the basement
I'm sweatin' out excuses
That would make your stomach turn
The road we drove last night
Stretched from the desert
To Las Vegas
We filled our cups and lit one up
The snow began to burn

Maybe
We were made
We were made for each other
Is it possible for the
For the world to look this way forever?

I talked so much
I'm sure I didn't realize I'd gone crazy
Didn't catch my bloody nose
Or that my heart tried to explode
I still live with my High School friends
Some people never change at all
We're still the same impulsive drunks
We were when we were small
Someone get this man to a hospital

Maybe
We were made
We were made for each other
Is it possible for the
For the world to look this way forever?

And I'm a long way from
From a firework daze
But i still like to burn, burn, burn
I'm always
In the haze of a car crash
The orange airbag dust covers everything
Everything

Maybe

We were made
We were made for each other
Is it possible for the
For the world to look this way forever?
