monday was cloudy, saw you crying on tuesday, your smile brightened the day wednesday was breezy, swept you off your feet.
seems like you can change moods everyday

this is a daily forecast,
i'm trying to understand
your weather report, your weather report.
one day you'll fight me, the next day you'll love me it's all in my weather report, your weather report gave me a warning, on thursday a hurricane could possibly hit on for the day i understand you're in pain but you're not alone in this thing wish i could predict your heart

this is a daily forecast,
one day you'll fight me, the next day you'll love me it's all in my weather report, your weather report (x2) why can't each day be sunny? instead of random all the time i swear if i could have just one week without you changing your mind relationship like a rollercoaster in and out, all over again looking up to the sky for answers baby

this is a daily forecast,
one day you'll fight me, the next day you'll love me
