

Jackie Greene "A Thing Called Rain"

Visit "A Thing Called Rain" on MotoLyrics.com

I think I'll quit my job today
Spend the money that I saved
I think I'll build a boat for me
And sail myself across the sea

'Cause every night the sun goes down
The morning helps me come around
The coffee likes to chase the booze
The booze, it likes to chase the blues

I kept your picture in a frame
I kept your heart out on a chain
But hearts don't belong on chains
And pictures don't belong in frames

People come and people go
Foe to friend and friend to foe
And you do just what you're supposed to do
'Cause the clock don't ever stop for you

And she thinks she knows me, oh so well
For six nights in a cheap motel
She gave her heart away for free
She gave it all away to me

But I'm needle dancin' on a pin
Match under my heels again
Not every bird will sing for you
Don't matter how you ask her to
I can't believe the way she acts
She doesn't even know the facts
But ain't that just the way it goes
You're telling truth in liars clothes

Born and raised and born again
I can't tell you why or when
But everything will happen twice
Sure as fire, plain as ice

So it's broken hearts and dusty roads
And somewhere there, my soul explodes
With every piece of everyday

And everything I meant to say

And where I'll be, no one can tell
I'm fishing in a wishing well
I'm doing the best I can
I hope you'll understand

Now I seen the lights that shine
Countless colors in my mind
They climb and swim and spark and glow
And ask me what it is I know

I know a thing called love
A thing called thunder in the sky above
And I know a thing called pain
I know a thing called rain

Oh, called rain, rain

Visit Jackie Greene page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.