She talked about jesus but there ain't nobody lying here she talked about the man but there ain't nobody worried here then she talked about love and never sings the blues she talked about money but there ain't nobody starving here she talked about her blood but there ain't nobody dying here

then she talked about love and everything's the blues

I know she don't care
about anything but me
she's already dancing,
talking about passin on the blues

she talked about devils how she should have been a 3rd street girl she talked about anything and everything in the whole wide word

she's already dancing,
