Well, I ain't gonna ask you what you're doin' here
I know you got your reasons but honey, they ain't ever clear

And maybe it's just better that you never stay
I love you more when you're walkin' away

I ain't gonna ask you what's on your mind
It's hard enough for my own head to unwind
The world is gettin' smaller, each and every day
And I love you more when you're walkin' away

When you're walkin' away
Baby, I get high like I never could You don't stay, although sometimes I wish you would Everything's clear when you're not here

Lonesome is a candle in the night

A one-room bedroom window crying-light
You take me for granted but baby that's okay
I love you more when you're walkin' away

Walkin' away
Baby, I get high like I never should You don't stay, honey, sometimes I wish you would Everything's clear when you're not here, I say

I ain't gonna ask you what you're doin' here
Just take what you can get and then disappear
Ah but that's alright mama, you can leave me any day
'Cause I love you more when you're walkin' away

I love you more when you're walkin' away
I love you more when you're walkin' away
