This one goes out to the other
For I just never realised
How I used to take it all on me
Despite the fact it wasn't mine

I don't know you like I used to
I can't accept this state of mind
It don't feel too good, I can assure you
To know I never really tried

I'm not begging you, no I'm not going to (I don't know you) Can't find the words today, won't help me anyway (I don't know you) I've got a comment to, oh what's become of you (I don't know you)
It's just a bit too late now you're gone

This one goes out to the other
For I just never realised
How I use to take it all on me
Despite the fact it wasn't mine

I'm not begging you, no I'm not going to (I don't know
