You moved along, way too soon
It's like you ran away baby,
Every day another day without you, isn't all
I stopped the ride, then returned to go
But did I really give it all,
Stop, give it up, we're on our own

Always alone, always alone, I need fire in Somebody new, someone like you, just like you

In all the books that I read, in all the films that I see it's you
In all the sounds it's you I hear somehow
I stopped the ride, then returned to go
It's not a game I can win
I know you don't play no more

Always alone, always alone, I need fire in
Somebody new, someone like you, just like you

I'm waiting for a life sign
But nothing seems to come
Waiting for a life sign

You moved along, way too soon,
Giving it away, I know
You are playing no more
