

Caedmon's Call "Share The Well"

Visit "Share The Well" on MotoLyrics.com

Je ra, ji ra, de ji ra, de ji, ji, ji
Share the well
Share with your brother
Share the well, my friend
It takes a deeper well
To love one another
Share the well, my friend
Je ra, ji ra, de ji ra, de ji, ji, ji
Do you think the water knows
Flowing down to the mountain thaw
Finally to find repose
For any soul who cares to draw
Some kindred keepers of this earth
On their way to join the flow
Are cast aside and left to thirst
Tell me now it is not so
All God's creatures share the water hole
The blessed day the monsoon comes
And in His image we are woven
Every likeness every one
From Kashmir to Karala
Under every banyan tree
Mothers for their children cry
With empty jar and bended knee
Je ra, ji ra, ji ra, de ji ra, de ji, ji, ji
You know I've heard good people say
There's nothing I can do
That's half a world away
Well maybe you've got money
Maybe you've got time
Maybe you've got the Living Well
That ain't ever running dry
Je ra, ji ra, ji ra, de ji ra, de ji, ji, ji

Visit Caedmon's Call page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.