[Verse 1]

How long you have trembled in darkness weeping
No rest in language, no words to speak
But there in the wreckage, beneath bricks and bandage
Love has come, love has come for you

[Verse 2]

Against the night sky of your waiting
Your face is like starlight when he walks in
And everything worth keeping, it comes through dying
And love has come, love has come for you

[Verse 3]

So lift up your heart now to this unfolding
All that has been broken, will be restored
Here runs deep waters for all who are thirsty
Cause love has come, love has come for you

[Verse 4]

Well ten thousand angels will light your pathway
Until the day breaks for the envy east
And they will surround you and make your way straight
Cause love has come, love has come for you
Oh love has come, love has come for you
