You've been passed around from
Hand to hand, cast upon the Darkest sands, now you're so confused
That you can hardly stand

Forgotten, you've forgotten now
You're on the run, forgotten, you've forgotten
How to live beneath the sun
How to live beneath the sun

Before you left I thought
I knew that you would always
Need me too, I never thought
Someday that I'd be telling you

You've forgotten, you've forgotten
The things you used to feel, forgotten
You've forgotten how to smile for real
How to smile for real

And for the changes you have made
Your beauty was the price you paid
All your dreams rose up
And then you watched them fade

You've forgotten, you've forgotten
You've forgotten, you've forgotten
The best is always yet to come
The best is always yet to come
The best is always yet to come
And how to live beneath the sun
