It's cold outside.
Oh, how I've tried,
To keep on loving you.

The wind bites deep.
There's no sleep,
Without me and you.

When you wished by the window,
Something broke inside.
When you wished that I was there,
That was when you cried.

It's goodbye,
To my loving you.
It's goodbye,
The whole story's true.
It's goodbye,
To my loving you.
It's goodbye.

It's no good,
Saying that we're through.
It don't work,
When you've got to choose.

Part of my resistance,
Is what must carry on.
Part of your insistence,
That love can not be torn.

So goodbye,
To my loving you.
It's goodbye,
The whole story's true.
Goodbye,
To my loving you.
It's goodbye.

Have a heart,
That's what you can do.

Wind and rain,
Like a cold shadow.

Keeps me in your arms,
Even if I go.
Now that love is leaving,
There's nothing left to show.

It's goodbye,
To my loving you.
It's goodbye,
The whole story's true.
It's goodbye,
To my loving you.
It's goodbye.

Take a chance, take a chance,
On the lonely stair.
Raise a glass,
Show 'em that we dare.

Pass from one another,
The way lovers always do.
This time is one reality,
Less then we can lose.

So say goodbye,
To my loving you, right now.
Say a prayer,
The whole story's true.
Say goodbye,
To my loving you.
It's goodbye.
