In a way I guess you could say,
That I behave I a very strange way
But just because my mama said so,
Doesn't mean I have to stay home.

But just before I go,
Let me tell you baby what I know
It doesn't matter what you say,
You're fifteen minutes too late

Left behind you're on the outside,
Out of luck and out of lifeline
Trying hard, you're trying to get there
You're getting high, you're getting nowhere

But just before you leave,
Let me tell you baby what I mean
It doesn't matter what you say,
When you're fifteen minutes too late

From the sky the snow keeps falling,
From a car somebody's calling
I'm down here beneath the street
Where people drag their very feet
Yeah

Just before you go
Let me tell you baby what I know,
And whatever you were gonna say,
You're fifteen minutes too late

It dosen't matter what you say,
You're fifteen minutes to late
