"Watching The Moon"

I see a puppet lost in space
And I try to deal with my disgrace
I hear you knocking on my door
And I drop a glass right on the floor

I try to run through whipped cream
This has to be another crazy dream
Different colours meet my eye
But I feel like look at black and white

I got the ocean straight ahead
It's giant and it's wide spread
I see it washing over me
And it just feels so right

Remember when I was a child
Our neighbours they were really wild
And all I wanna do right now
Is sit and watch the moon

Like to see the swallows glide
I like to play seek and hide
But every time I look to see
I couldn't find another honey bee

Remember skies of perfect blue
And how I learned to tie my shoes
The salmon roams are thousand miles
It dives on as the eagle cries

I got the ocean straight ahead
It's giant and it's wide spread
I see it washing over me
And it just feels so right

Remember when I was a child
Our neighbours they were really wild
And all I wanna do right now
Is sit and watch the moon

I see a puppet lost in space
And I try to deal with my disgrace
And I can hear you knocking on my door

I got the ocean straight ahead
It's giant and it's wide spread
I see it washing over me
And it just feels so right

Remember when I was a child
Our neighbours they were really wild
And all I wanna do right now
Is sit and watch the moon
