Dance across the hall
Swamp the floor with the reasons you resigned
Tell the truth a tall tale, a tall order
Dance your face across the sky
Everyone wants to rule the world

It's a no go
You didn't show
So I'm letting you go

Lay your hands across me to follow
The defender of the alliance holds her hand in compliance
Tell the truth, make a choice
I want out of here

Because we found
Five pictures of Alex when she was four years old
Three pictures of Kevin singing to the radio
Two pictures of Brenna with a friend trying hard to compare
That one picture of Claire waving her hands in the air

We had several saving Saturday's with assorted grace
Two weekends in town with a friend trying to calm down
The recent victim of an amputation
The straight shot that ruin summer vacation

I hate my teeth, I hate my toes
I hate the sand beneath them, the earth beneath them
And the reasons why
I don't see it fit to try

I swallowed my future
Wasted my time on a record I didn't believe in So when I pump my blood into a circular piece of plastic
And I expose my love
For a heavy dose of rotation

What will Hannah say?

(It's a No Go)
She'll say
Send me the ocean
Dance your way across the lords
(It's a No Go)
It's an awkward piece of the pie now
I'm finding a softer side of your bedroom
A trouble with living, a trouble with knowing
A trouble with all of my friends (Say it's a No Go)
Who insist I keeping going
And all of my dreams
That just refuse to die

I know it's a No Go!

Because we found
Five pictures of Alex when she was four years old
Three pictures of Kevin singing to the radio
compare
That one picture of Claire waving her hands in the air

We had several saving Saturday's with assorted grace
Two weekends in town with a friend trying to calm
down
The recent victim of an amputation
The straight shot that ruin summer vacation

And if I had the words to sing to you

Megan row your boat ashore
Hallelujah
Because Michael can't row this boat ashore
Hallelujah
