I yearn to touch you in the morning
I yearn to touch you late at night
I can start the fire but I can't control the flame
Love in your hand not other hand could do the same

And I could build a building straight up to the sky
You can take me higher, here's the reason why

I could never touch you
I could never touch you like you do
I could never touch you
No matter how much I really wanted to

I could never touch you
Like you do
I could never touch you
I could never touch you like you do

The overflow of love keeps flowing
More than any man could ever want
I can swim forever in your garden lake
The magic's in your hand, takes the magic for the dam to break

And I would crawl across burning desert sand
Just to have the magic that's in your hand

I could never touch you
I could never touch you like you do
I could never touch you
No matter how much I really wanted to

I could never touch you
Like you do
I could never touch you
I could never touch you like you do

And when the morning comes
I can feel your heart beat next to mine
Girl you show me all I need to see
You take me where I want to be, yeah

I could never touch you
I could never touch you like you do
I could never touch you
No matter how much I really wanted to

I could never touch you
Like you do
I could never touch you
I could never touch you like you do

I could never touch you
I could never touch you like you do
I could never touch you
No matter how much I really wanted to

I could never touch you
Like you do
I could never touch you
I could never touch you
I could never touch you like you do
