

Jacob Charles Alford "Spiderbyte"

Visit "Spiderbyte" on MotoLyrics.com

Before I read a book
I can always read the cover
With you I could never tell
Will there ever be dreams there
I dance through pages
Like my notes are full of water
My words are wine
In a glass that holds only laughter

A spider bite in time
A pain that's always mine
Wish I could whisper to you
The secrets that we lost

In my dreams I fly with you
Please taste the purple apple
Could you tell me
Is this kite made for two
Or did the meadow cry
As I lie alone inside
Cuddled with only my
Rainbow disaster

A spider bite in time
A pain that's always mine
Wish I could sing to you
The secrets that I lost

A spider bite in time
A fear that's realized
Wish I could dance with you
The song that I lost.

Visit Jacob Charles Alford page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.