Lie relaxed
the breeze passes before me the sunsets with ease as do the days before me never a peaceful flight without a proper goodbye cheese in your sandwich todays cheese is a steril peril we'd come one day destroy survival
if only we read the map right side up the sky was grey we are seventy percent animal all this time we'd figured we were right tried and i tried to help you but i couldnt lie to you not you its ok for me to carry on now there was an old school friend of mine he'd been away for a long time mommy sent him away he'd clip his wing again think to yourself evalute him drinking milk i was searching for twin silk ill try a projection of my silk self
