(Riley/McCain/Aparo) Edwin McCain cover

We keep our love in a plain brown box
We keep it tied with a simple lock
We hold it close cos it's all we got
We think it's ordinary but it's not
In a world that's starting to fade
A little love could pave the way
Don't keep it tied with the simple lock
You think it's ordinary but it's not

Maybe this life is
Just about love and tenderness
If all we are, are shooting stars
And maybe we, we can fight
All of this pain and loneliness
If all we are are shooting stars
Tired of hearing bout the bling bling
We're so concerned with material things
It's all cars and diamond rings
Do you think it's gonna to ease your sting
Cos that's a hole that you can't fill
Velvet rope overkill
Free your mind let your heart sing
Just remember that they're only things

(Chorus)

I used to live by the minute
I was too blind to see
Now I've found the strength to admit it
Now it's all I believe... please

(Chorus)

Shooting stars (to fade)
