Was mining the earth for something
Not as blue as a life apart from you
And all the days I've wasted I wondered What to do , knew there was so much more
To live for
We're all searching for truth
For that one thing we can hold onto
In this world the things we do come to find
We've been searching all this time
we've been
Searching for you
Went chasing the wind but found
No lasting joy I came up with empty hands
With all the rivers running
My sea was never full knew there was so much more
To live for
We're all searching for truth
For that one thing we can hold onto
In this world the things we do come to find
We've been searching all this time
we've been
Searching
For a life that sees beyond
For a love that's always there to rely on
For a faith that gives us meaning For a truth to live and a reason for believing, for believing
We're all searching for truth
We're all searching for you
In this world the things we do come to find
We've been searching for you
We're all searching for truth
For that one thing we can hold onto
In this world the things we do come to find we've been searching
come to find we've been searching all this time we've been
Searching for you
For you, For you!
