Verse 1

Did you ever wonder why it got this way
When darkness hid, hid the light of day
The stain of abandon was on your face
You hid yourself from grace

Pre-chorus

Torn are the walls of yesterday
It's never gonna be that way
I give to you all of my days
All of my ways, all of my ways

Chorus

And now it's time for your life
To leave this broken strife
Take a look inside yourself and see
Your beautiful
Torn are the walls of yesterday
It's never gonna be that way
I give to you all of my days
All of my ways, all of my ways

Verse 2

Did you ever feel your life was thrown away
And darkness led, led your sight astray
Falling forever into fear
Eyes are filled with tears

This souls taken, move along you're mistaken
My mind's not in line with the sense that you're making
I put to fire all the lies that you glorified
And get me time to align with you put aside
This souls waking, lose your grip you're forsaken
In line to define where in life what is mine
And by the time you realize what you're up against
You'll be the one staring up from under my feet
