"Unconditional Love"

You never see it coming
Then the next you know... unconditional love...
She ain't looking for no diamonds
And digging for no gold
Just somebody to love... unconditional love
Woaaah

1st of January
Said you starting over
Your heart's been in remission
Making a new beginning (yeah)
And it's been six months since you got sober
Taking a new position
To make a better decision
Then you head to the corner store
And forget what you went for
Just as soon as he says hello... hello

You never see it coming
Then the next you know... unconditional love...
unconditional love
She ain't looking for no diamonds
And digging for no gold
Just somebody to love... unconditional love
Woaaah

You never see it coming
Then the next you know... unconditional love...
unconditional love
She ain't looking for no diamonds
And digging for no gold
Just somebody to love... unconditional love
Woaaah

The fourteenth of February
Got a cold shoulder
From someone so unexpected
You left your heart unprotected (yeah)
Then you been to China Wall
Got it like a soldier

People would call your phone
You act like nobody's home

And I went to the corner store
And I forgot what I went for
Just as soon as you said hello... helllooo

I never saw it coming
Then the next I know... unconditional love...
unconditional love
I ain't looking for no diamonds
And digging for no gold
Just somebody to love... unconditional love

(Chorus)
You never see it coming
Then the next you know... unconditional love...
unconditional love
I ain't looking for no diamonds
And digging for no gold
Just somebody to love... unconditional love
Woaaah
