Here's the scenery leisurly walking eagerly just departed some friends and some drinks in the eatery
i got a makeout session and 2 o'clock she's grilling me slide on this date hate to say that she's really feeling me she put her hand on my waist tasted perfume in the doorway body language is everywhere i guess this is your day she's either scorned or she suffers from a disorder too many lines to cross but our mental states don't border don't know what you were thinking, i'm so on the brink and needing something that we can someone to keep and what you're doing is speaking your tongue in your cheek and your adorable weeping your water can leak in fill up the room as soon as i'm stuck in the deep end i cling to a beacon, i was sinking my teeth in i flew from your region, left you some of my demons you were some sort of treatment or something else she is seeing evil kenivel of charm, no equal i crashed already, jump in my eagle to meet you her tongue slowly passes her lips like a sharks fin i'm in troubled waters now, heart bleeding, she's starving her feelings got deeper into me, look what you did to

me
nothin a scientist, a pint of piss in chemistry we could sip from a v-8, bitching about what we hate you'll probably offend me by then trying to relate

and needing something that we can
i flew from your region, left you some of my demons
