You said it to me once, maybe twice
It wasn't nice to say we couldn't make it
Think about everything that we had
So far gone to reach, I couldn't take it
In the end I hold on tight (now)
In the end I see the light
I try to escape it, I try to erase it
But my focus to get rid is so unclear to me

If I'm in a dream, please come a wake me
It's not what it seems, forget what I'm facing
Get it away, or is it too late?
Have to make it through another day

Free me... let me be
I can't take another memory
If this is love then, it's blinding me
Lonely... what's it to me?
If I can't have any company
If that was love then, it blinded me

Had I held up the only sign to stop
I made handy before we went to war
I feel that maybe I would be on top
Instead of beaten down and on the floor
In the end we start over again (now)
In the end, I just can't pretend
Please find it in your heart
Give me a way, let me down today
(I don't wanna stay)

If I'm in a dream, please come a wake me
It's not what it seems, forget what I'm facing
Get it away, or is it too late?
Have to make it through another day

Free me... let me be
I can't take another memory
If this is love then, it's blinding me
Lonely... what's it to me?
If I can't have any company
If that was love then, it blinded me

I'm blessed with no soul
(Gotta get away, if I could let you)
Treat me like that
I couldn't fathom
Just having one last breath
To run and hide away
My head's corrupt in ways
I cannot explain, and all that remains
The scars of your blinding love

Free me... let me be
I can't take another memory
If this is love then, it's blinding me
Lonely... what's it to me?
If I can't have any company
If that was love then, it blinded me
If I move on, I want you to see
I'm never facing the memory
It will all amount to Never blinding me...
