Unspoken words, he began to say
Speak of darkness moving my way
Light shines above me, darkness sheds to light
All surroundings light up my life

But it's slowly painful to see the truth
While I sit here to wonder when it ends, ends
How controlling the illusions can get to your head
But I know, I know...

What you've done to me
It's hurting in my life
Words of wisdom help me survive
That's what he said to me
My heart's set free
Lost in love, that's what is said to be

But it's slowly painful to see the truth
While I sit here to wonder when it ends, ends
How controlling the illusions can get to your head
But I know, I know...

Ooh how can this be
This power focuses on me
Ooh why can't I see this journey
Is only meant for me

But it's slowly painful to see the truth
While I sit here to wonder when it ends, ends
How controlling the illusions can get to your head
But I know, I know...

Light shines above me, darkness sheds to light
All surroundings light up my life
