I was switched off like a light
A fighter with no fight
Staring up at the stars
I'd given into the dark

Burned out like a match
At the low end of the crash
The moon glowed like a scar
How did things go so far

Somehow you saw someone worth saving
You pulled me back into the light

Now if ever I can rescue you,
When you need two arms to fall into
You know exactly where I'll be
Just look for me
Oh look for me

When it seems like you have lost it all
And you feel like you're in free fall
Goin' deep into the blue
I will rescue you

When every promise turns to dust
And there's no one left to trust
When you're punchin at the sky
And you're out of alibies
I know how this feels
When the wounds don't want to heal
But I won't forget your grace

Or the beauty of your face

Somehow you saw someone worth saving
You pulled me back into the light

Now if ever I can rescue you
When you need two arms to fall into
You know exactly where I'll be
Just look for me
Oh look for me

When it seems like you have lost it all
And you feel like you're in free fall
Goin' deep into the blue
I will rescue you

I fell into that hole before
And I, I walked into that slamming door
And I faded away
To where you art in day

Now if ever I can rescue you,
When you need two arms to fall into
You know exactly where I'll be
Just look for me
Oh look for me

When it seems like you have lost it all
And you feel like you're in free fall
Goin' deep into the blue
I will rescue you
