"Found By You"

I've been looking for some answers here
Searching harder for a new way there
I'm still walking all alone
And I don't think I'll make it home, but...
There is something that I know for sure

CHORUS

You brought me out here on my own
To find my way through things unknown
I know that I can't make it without You
When days are long and skies are grey
I'll walk with You, You lead the way
Some say that I am lost, but that's not true
'Cause really I am found by You

Things they seem a little clearer now (seem so clear)
Found the right direction here somehow (right direction here)
Fear is gone and trust is new
So, I don't care what others do
I will give up anything I have

CHORUS

Sometimes I can't feel (feel You near)
Is this life for real? I need to know
I'm running out of hope
I'm running out of time
I need You to remind me of Your love

CHORUS
