Tell me baby, Are you coming over or do i need to go back to sleep. This scene is utter chaos you're driving me crazy with all the little Secrets you keep. This name means nothing to me. All I ever needed, all I ever wanted was you. Take a look out your window, I'm watching closely; I see everything that you do. Are you coming, Are you coming with me? Are you coming, Are you coming with me? I just wanna be (any one you need). I just wanna breathe the air you breathe so deep. When will you see (your the one for me)? You know you really need to come home with me. Every night after dark the beasts come out to feed. Feel the wrath of standing still. No more begging the window. I'm coming out and I'm needing to feed. Let me play you that endnote. Tell me baby, Are you coming over or do I need to go back to sleep. This scene is utter chaos you're driving me crazy with all the little Secrets you keep. This name means nothing to me. All i ever needed all i ever wanted was you. Take a look out your window. I'm watching closely i see everything that you do. I want you to (feel me in you). If you only knew revealing the truth. Can it be seen (this change in me)? One last goodbye kissing you goodnight. I'll pave the way through to better days, forget today there seems to be no other way. One thing I'll say is I know all things will break. Your trying hard you come off like a fake. Stars fall; please do your best to soften up their landing.
