So we may be gorgeous,
So we may be famous,
Come back when we're getting old.

Cover us in chocolate,
Sell us to the neighbours,
Frame us in a video.

Clone us in a test tube,
Sell us to the multitude,
Guess that's the price of fame.

She likes the black one,
he likes the posh one,
Cute ones are usually gay.

Here we come,
This is our destiny calling,
We're freaks,
This is our destiny calling,
Unique,
This is our destiny calling now.

Don't believe the adverts,
Don't believe the expert,
Everyone will sell our souls.

Get a little wiser,
Get a little humble,
Now we know that we don't know

Tell us when our time's up,
Show us how to die,
Well show us how to let it all go,

Here we come,
This is our destiny calling,
We're freaks,
This is our destiny calling,
Unique,
This is our destiny calling now.

Some fat cat's playing roulette with lives
This game is fixed it's all a lie,
Some fat cat's playing roulette with lives,
This time is good, there's no straight lines,
Some fat cat's playing roulette with lives,
Forget myself, we're all entwined,
There's no straight lines.

Here we come,
This is our destiny calling,
We're freaks,
This is our destiny calling,
Unique,
This is our destiny calling now.

Here we come,
This is our destiny calling,
We're freaks,
This is our destiny calling,
Unique,
This is our destiny calling now.

This is our destiny calling,
This is our destiny calling,
This is our destiny calling.

Now.

Now.

Now.
