I can see in your face that the feeling is over
I can hear in your voice that you're not here at all
I can tell by your walk that you want to be elsewhere
I just don't understand why you let yourself fall
I can dry up the tears and get on with my life
I can wash out the past and start over again
I could live in a world without somebody's problems

So I don't understand why I can't let go
No I don't understand why I love you so

Blinded by your mystery it's taking me over
Blinded by your love for me I want to let go
But it's complicated you got me on my knees and I don't want your sympathy

I can see by the flame in your eyes that you're angry

I can tell by the cross that you bear that you're lost
I can only imagine the silence in your house

So I don't understand why you can't let go
And I don't understand why you love me so

Blinded by your mystery it's taking me over
Blinded by your love for me I want to let go
But it's complicated you got me on my knees and I
don't want your sympathy

Seeing you smile, seeing you move again
Learning to to cope, being yourself, walking away knowing it's good again
Honey I'm scared of the end
