Still a little sound I like to hear
Still a quiet voice inside my ear
When I feel blue instead of red
I'm scared of all the things I could have said

Afterall, it's you drowning as I recall
And the way you used to sleep
When I sang your song

Cause when I reach for you
There's no time for us
And when you reach for me
I can feel your touch
Cause life is lying over your clothes
Cause you complete the best of me

Still a little love left in my heart
Still a piece you didn't tear apart
When I think of all the skins we shared
Seems that we can't comprehend the things we left

Afterall, it's your lightest touch I recall
And the way held your head
When I sang your song

Cause when I reach for you
There's no time for us
And when you reach for me
I can feel your touch
Cause life is lying over your clothes
Cause you complete the best of me

When I sing your song
When I sing your song
When I sing your song
When I sing your song

Afterall, it's you drowning as I recall
And the way you used to sleep
When I sang your song
