

James Dean Bradfield

"Still A Long Way To Go"

Visit "Still A Long Way To Go" on MotoLyrics.com

You're falling through the night
and giving in to bad dreams,
where nothing is as it seems.

There's still a long way to go.

And the fading glorious night,
never seems to bring you home.
You think that this is your road.

There's still a long way to go.

I can't give you an A to Z,
there's some things I just can't show.
Just try to disbelieve your eyes;
For this I surely know
- there's a long way to go.

Like laughing in the dark,
to keep the dogs at bay;
No matter what you might see,
there's still a long way to go.

Cold comfort in the dawn,
the dawn that brings you round,
a pale light that you found,
there's still a long way to go.

I can't give you an A to Z,
there's some things I just can't show.
Just try to disbelieve your eyes;
For this I surely know
- there's a long way to go.

You're falling through the nights
and giving in to bad dreams,
where nothing is as it seems.

There's still a long way to go

