Diamonds used to be cold, look young cause they got sold,
And that's why they're beautiful,
And my heart used to be cold till your hands laid on my soul, baby That's why you're beautiful, I'm not wondering why,
the sky's blue that's not my business,
All I know is i,
look up and tell myself,
be patient love, that could be us

The lovers used to make love, and not just to give us,
Their piece of the beautiful, Remember when we made love,
love wasn't it beautiful,

Don't ask me why,
the sky's blue that's not my business,
All I know is i look up and tell myself,
be patient love, that could be us,

The time is coming, never coming back, coming back To tell the truth i don't want none of that, none of that,
As long as we sit here counting minutes, before you know it we're finished, Cause somebody's gotta stay deep in love, we could be the ones
it could be us
