Your the only one who made it through the fire burning fire Your the only one who walked the wire and made it to the other side
Your the one who took away my fear of falling Only one to see the sign you know I'm calling your the one who took me by the hand and shorty taught me how to fly i fell so safe that im up in your arms nothing can touch me when im right were you are you busted through the door, came up through the floor just in the nick of time to save me

My heart never had a hero
