I'll let her out, told her to make me proud.
She said no, don't go.
I held her back, she was better than that.
But she said not alone.
It only seems like I made you better.
Only me, I was clever.
Only thing holding you prisoner is your heart.
I can't let go.

Give me the strength to throw your heart away.
I need the strength to live another day.
Without your strength, letting me to set you free.
Can't be, will you lead me wrong.
Back up your heart and pull it away.
Cause I don't have the strength.

Don't know how to live without your smile.
But I'm doing research and I hope it works.
Cause when you left, your worst became your best.
And you deserved that world.
It only seems like I made you better.
Only me, I was clever.
Only thing holding you prisoner is your heart.
I can't let go.

Give me the strength to throw your heart away.
I need the strength to live another day.
Without your strength, letting me to set you free.
Can't be, will you lead me wrong.
Back up your heart and pull it away.
Cause I don't have the strength.

Guess I just can't do it, no extra time won't do.
No next time won't do it, no exercise won't do it.
No extra cars can move it.
Baby extra lies won't smooth it.
And baby extra tries won't prove it.
I love you but I need you to give me the strength.

Give me the strength to throw your heart away.
I need the strength to live another day.
Without your strength, letting me to set you free.

Can't be, will you need (No)
Back up your heart and pull it away.
Cause I don't have the strength.
