I just beat the wall in a staring contest and then I played,
The silent game with the goldfish and won, I don't have much to say
Told the fire to chill out, it did what i say,
I can't do anything, except for love,

You...you...
You make old pain feel so brand new, you,
You make the truth feel all confused, you
You make my gospel sound like blues, you
You take my heart and shake it loose,

When you turn me upside down (Everything starts falling down, my heart and all start falling down...)
x2

You, you take my heart and make it blue, you do, You stick to one but i still lose, you
You say its love but i need proof, you
You take my heart and shake it loose

When you turn me upside down
(Everything starts falling down, my heart and all start falling down...)
x4

And the blood rushes straight to my head
I think I would rather just be dead
When I'm living in a world where you swimmin, it's cold
And its upside down, I dont wanna drown!

When you turn me upside down,
(Everything starts falling down, my heart and all start falling down...)
x4

When you turn me upside down-ow-own, ow-own, owown...baby
When you turn me upside...down.
