Please, break my heart
Say it's forever
Then I'll remember
How you said forever to me

Please, break my heart
I'll be piece it together
I'd rather be shattered
Than to know forever without you

Love is all that matters
And it mattered none to you
Love is all that mattered
And you left me crying, sighing and blue
Please, break my heart
Kiss me like never
One kiss to remember
The rest of my life to forget about you

All the broken hearts together
Do they matter none to you?
I was hoping mine would matter
And you left me crying, sighing and blue

Please, break my heart
Do it forever
Oh please, break my heart
