Well, the next phase...
You check to see if I am breathing
Beacause it's been a while
Since any sign of weakness I've been feeding on

When you wake up from your beautiful ride
I know it's time to leave
But I never can seem to say goodbye

January, I'm alive
And it's because of you
January, if I'm high
It's because of you

If I'm losing a little more each time that you define me
I wish you'd wait a while
My better side comes creeping up behind me

When you wake up from your beautiful ride
I know it's time to lay it in
But I never can seem to say it right

January, I'm alive
And it's because of you
January, if I'm high
It's because of you

I'm never gonna make you wait around again
Wait around again, for me
I'm never gonna make you wait around again

So the next phase...
You check to see if I am breathing
