Yesterday was full of tears, knowing death has just been here
All was lost but not forgot, the pain controls my every thought
A new day's battle has begun, all was lost and nothing's won
I can't wait to see the day, when the tears all go away...
I miss you, I kissed you, when we layed you in your grave
I need you to believe you, things were meant to be this way...
Today came with shattered dreams, everything's not what it seems Don't think death won't come get you, cause it will life's misconstrued
Though my battle's just begun, I'm dropping arms and going to run
I can't wait to see the day, these painfull tears all go away...
I miss you, I kissed, when we layed you in your grave
I need you, to believe you, things were ment to be this
way
I did nothing at all, nothing at all, it's all my fault your gone
Your face on my wall, face on my wall, it tells it all, you will live on... (2X)
