Let's sail away, into the lake that we grew up in, where all our dreams were made We'll watch the sun as it fades away well all the while, still holding on to everything we've gained

But hold on, we've got a lot more time to go now hold .. your eyes as your dreams turn real Hold on, we've got a lot more time to spend now Hold .. your eyes as your dreams turn real girl

Its finally here, its finally came All the planning for the last year has come down to this sweet day
And now I wish my luck stays great, cause all these people are here watching us, just wishing they could say "I do"

Hold on, we've got the whole damn night for us now hold on, wave goodbye then its off to bed now Hold on, we've got our whole damn lives to spend now
Hold .. your eyes as your dreams turn real girl

The years will pass, and we will age
But this life is just the prologue cause eternity awaits

Hold on, when I'm gone use this song to remember Hold on, cause in time we'll both be together Hold on, take a breath feel air that surrounds you and Hold on
