

Across The Sky "Persistence"

Visit "Persistence" on MotoLyrics.com

I always felt like there was someone guiding me
Through the twisted maze of my reality
You never gave up when my hope would fade
You showed me signs, so many times

As the days went by I sensed Your touch
A steady stream that slowly turned into a flood
With all the evidence I'll ever need
There's no question of the way You prove Your love

Over and over I was turned back around
Whenever I wandered somehow You would find me
You've taken me into Your heart, to my home
And closed the distance with Your persistence

Like an island I have landed on many times
Your love has been the only place I could survive
When I'm all alone I hear Your voice
Constantly, You are there for me

Over and over I was turned back around
Whenever I wandered somehow You would find me
You've taken me into Your heart, to my home
And closed the distance with Your persistence

I always felt like there was someone guiding me
Through the twisted maze of my reality

Over and over I was turned back around
Whenever I wandered somehow You would find me
You've taken me into Your heart, to my home
And closed the distance

Over and over I was turned back around
Whenever I wandered somehow You would find me
You've taken me into Your heart, to my home
And closed the distance with Your persistence
Closed the distance, your persistence, your persistence

