You'll take me down at tarragon lake
With the saddest eyes as you drive the stake
And I'll just smile at you and stroke your face
I'm proud of you, so vanquish me

I am the villain of all this
This is the devil that you kiss
I am the vampyre, the bloodline
This is the joker you've been plagued by

I spotted you in a small caf
From the shadows where I watch paris play
I'm dying to have you in my veins

But I stood frozen
I've seen kingdoms rise and fall
I've read the stories on the pyramid walls
I've had a thousand women and I drank them all
But I've never seen you
Centuries now unimportant

We'll ravage these streets with speed and grace
Until the blood is enough to blush our face
A slow dance through time and space
But you got greedy, remember this
